ABOUT ME

INTRO —

I co-founded a bootcamp to teach what most Design Systems courses skip

In July 2023, I co-founded Design System Camp with my partner. A live, practice-first bootcamp teaching design system strategy end-to-end. I built the curriculum, templates, and materials from scratch, and teach the Figma, Accessibility, Governance, and Metrics modules.

A full design system lifecycle, not just a Figma course

I recruited and coordinated specialists across the industry to teach what I couldn't cover alone, each bringing real, current experience from companies running design systems at scale. 5 modules, 10 classes, 20 hours, built to take a designer from zero to running a design system professionally.

From one bootcamp to a growing education brand

The depth of the topics covered and the hands-on exercises have strengthened my skills and given me a clearer perspective on how to align design with the company's strategic goals.
